Favourite FAQ 1

If my son does not take Additional Mathematics, how will it affect his subject combination choices in Junior College?

The learning of Mathematics at the ‘A’ levels builds on students’ prior knowledge and skills in ‘O’ level Mathematics and Additional Mathematics.

Learning Mathematics is optional at the ‘A’ level, depending on the interest of your son.

Favourite FAQ 2

If my son is considering a Bachelor of Medicine and Bachelor of Surgery (MBBS) in NUS, must he take triple science? No

Bachelor of Medicine and Bachelor of Surgery (MBBS)

Please refer to the admission requirements for MBBS at the National University of Singapore Yong Loo Lin School of Medicine below. For further enquiries regarding your qualification's pre-requisites, please contact the NUS Office of Admissions here →

SINGAPORE-CAMBRIDGE GCE 'A' LEVEL CERTIFICATE

A good H2 pass in Chemistry and H2 pass in either Biology or Physics.
Of the best six subjects (i.e. 4 content-based subjects, H1 GP and H1 PW), used in the computation of the University Admission Score, at least one content subject to be from a contrasting discipline.

The 4 content-based subjects can be of the following combinations:

- 4 H2 content-based subjects OR
- 3 H2 and 1 H1 content-based subjects

Students applying to JC from 2028 to use L1R4 score, requiring five O-level subjects instead of six

With this change, students will need to get 16 points or fewer for their L1R4 score, which stands for one language and four relevant subjects, to qualify for JC.

"For students exploring the pre-university pathway, we want to create more time and space to build on their strengths and develop them holistically," said Education Minister Chan Chun Sing on March 6 during the debate on MOE's budget.

The revised criterion "means that students will be able to take fewer subjects, or take some subjects at a less demanding level", he added.

"They will thus be able to devote more time and effort to pursue their interests, deepen their communication and collaboration skills through CCAs (co-curricular activities), and uncover new strengths through school programmes."

Sec 3 Subject Combinations [Tentative]

More demanding level/Less demanding level

- Students who did not offer EL, MTL, MA and/or SCI at a more demanding level (including HMTL) in lower secondary could start to offer the subject(s) at a more demanding level from the start of S3 if they are deemed able to cope with the subject at a more demanding level.

- A common reference would be obtaining an overall score of 75% or higher for the subject(s) at the current subject level. (Criteria for offering of subjects at MDL at start of Sec 3)

More demanding level/Less demanding level

- Students who meet the eligibility criteria will also have the flexibility to offer the subject at a more or less demanding level .

- By default, students will offer all their compulsory subjects at the same subject level as that offered in lower secondary.
